U. N. Orders an End To War in Palestine; Hints Use of Force

LAKE SUCCESS, July 15 (AP) - The Security council tonight ordered the Jews and Arabs to halt the war in Palestine. The decision was backed up with provisions for United Nations force if necessary.

The final vote was 7 to 1 with Syria alone in opposition. Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and Argentina abstained.

The decision, taken on an American resolution, gave the Jews and Arabs three days to cease fire. It went far beyond previous U. N. actions hich merely asked the two sides to stop fighting and allowed them to eject the pleas without consequences.

RUSSIA SUPPORTED the order to the Jews and Arabs to lay down their arms. The Soviet Union, however, refused to endorse parts of the American plan calling for further mediation efforts by Count Folke Bernadotte and the abstention on the final ballot apparently was in protest against inclusion of these sections. Russia could have killed the whole plan with a veto.

Argentina abstained because of opposition to the use of force.

Arab delegates have told the council that they could see no possibility of the Arabs accepting the order. Israel was expected to comply.

The resolution also ordered an unconditional cease-fire in Jerusalem to take effect within 24

The council then must consider immediately which steps to take to enforce the order. The U. N. charter lists diplomatic sanctions, economic sanction and as a last resort the utilization of international land, sea and air forces.

Count Bernadotte was instructed to supervise the ceasefire, which is of unlimited duration, and continue his efforts at Jewish-Arab mediation. Russia refused to support tions concerning Bernadotte in the paragraph voting, contending he is trying to wreck the partition plan.

After some wrangling, Syria agreed not to press at this time for a vote on the proposal to ask the International Court of Justice for an opinion on the status of Pales-

Workers Authorize Strike Against Ford

DETROIT. July 15 (A) - Representatives of 116,000 Ford Motor company workers today unanimously authorized the CIO-United Auto Workers to call a strike against the big automotive firm.

Rejecting Ford's "final" offer of 13-cent hourly pay raise, the National Ford council demanded that Ken Bannon, national Ford director, set a date for the walkout: Bannon was expected to delay any action until after Monday, when the union's executive board meets. A strike would have to be approved by the international union before a walkout could actually begin. Ford made what it called its "final offer" last night. Its terms included a flat 13-cent raise and

Truman Won't Share Party Defeatist Spirit

By RAY TUCKER

PHILADELPHIA, July 15-President Truman sent word to the delegates here through National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, that he is convinced of his re-election next November. Although he seems to be the only man in this city with that faith in his chances, he has moved to suppress the defeatist spirit which has fallen upon the party as it prepares to face the Dewey-

Mr. Truman expects to win by adopting the same formula which elected Franklin D. Roosevelt, four times. He does not agree with some political experts who think that he will lose possibly four Southern States. or with those who maintain that he will be one of the worst defeated chief executives since Alf Landon carried only two commonwealths in 1936.

The Missourian, in talks with prominent delegates just before they left Washington for the convention city, insisted that the groups which have made up the so-called Rooseveltian party for 16 years would cling to him. He plans to denounce the GOP ticket as dominated by "Wall Street," and will campaign as the champion of the "little people."

VOTES: President Truman, according to Chairman McGrath, Keynoter Barkley and permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn, of Texas, thinks that he will sweep the great, metropolitan centers, whose votes enabled Mr. Roosevelt to carry the key

However, the fact that the party chairmanship fell to the conservative, Republican wing headed by Senator Martin, who once referred to Sen. Robert A. He has special difficulty with certain syllables which he may repeat almost endlessly before being able to link them up with those that should follow to form a complete word or phrase. It is estimated that there are at least one million people in the United States who suffer from this stumbling and spasmodic form of speech.

This is perhaps an evidence of our poor handling of our children because it is pretty well established that stuttering has its roots in emotional disturbances during early childhood. If the causes of the child's unhappiness are removed and nothing is done to fix his attention on his disability, it usually disappears without his ever becoming conscious of the

But if, through scoldings and corrections, stuttering becomes ingrained, it is likely to persist through life and to defy all the treatments ever devised to overcome it. In the past these have included everything from surgery to hypnotism. Today, however, emphasis has shifted and it is felt now that best results will be obtained by treating the parents rather than the child, particularly PHILADELPHIA, July 15 (P)—A Philadelphia taproom owner was arrested today in the investigation of the slaying of Anthony Minerva, 23-year-old Vineland, N. J., egg dealer and cheese manufacturer.

Capt. James J. Kelly of the homicide squad identified the man as Peter Casella, 40, and said he was slated for investigation. Casella will be given a hearing before Magistrate John L. Coyle tomorrow. Kelly said Minerva occasionally

HE MAY HAVE PICKED up his ticket for the fight at the taproom, Kelly added. Early Tuesday morning Minerva was found shot to death in his automobile in South Philadelphia. Casella's arrest was made after Michael Maggio, 59, a South Philadelphia cheese merchant, was arraigned in City Hall Police court. Maggio was released in $1500 bail for a further hearing. Maggio was ordered held on a charge of "investigation concerning homicide" when he was arraigned before Magistrate Coyle.

Captain Kelly testified Minerva

Third Party Leaders To Hit Philadelphia For First Conclave

PHILADELPHIA, July 15 (A) Wallaceites move into Philadelphia Saturday to complete the political convention cycle.

The nation's newest political party. which variously has called itself the Progressive, New, Third and Wallace-for-President party, will hold its founding conclave here July 23 to 25.

The Republicans held sway is Philadelphia the week of June 21 and the Democrats wound up their session early oday.

Wallaceites are wasting no time in taking over. They will establish headquarters at the Bellevue-Stratford by Saturday. And one week later the party will choose as its standard-bearers, Henry A. Wallace for president and Idaho's Senator Glen H. Taylor for vice president.

Wednesday the party's platform committee, headed by Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, professor at the University of Chicago and one-time New Dealer, will begin hewing its campaign planks.

PROPOSED FOR THE party's keynoter is Charles P. Howard, 53year-old Negro attorney and newspaper publisher of Des Moines. Ia Howard has been prominent for 25 fears in Iowa Republican circles. Luke W. Wilson, assistant manager of the Wallace convention said the exact number of delegates and alternates who will take part in the convention "isn't known yet."

He said the national Wallace for president committee "has issued our convention call 'broadside' for 4248 delegates and 531 alternates."

That's eight delegates for each of the nation's 531 electoral votes and one alternate for each vote. In states where the party has not been established, the convention call was sent to the state Wallace-for-President committee with authority to designate delegates.

OTHER STATES elected delegates at founding conventions. The Wallaceites will shift from convention hall to Shibe Park for the acceptance speeches of Wallace and Taylor on the night of July 24. A price ranging from 65 cents to $2.60 will be placed on the 33,000 seats at the park. Convention Hall seats 13,000. Wilson said proceeds "will help pay convention expenses. The City of Philadelphia gave the Republicans and Democrats $200,000 each for holding their conventions here. But we didn't get a cent."

The city did, however, extend to the new party the use of Convention Hall. Wallace and Taylor will come to Philadelphia Thursday or Friday of tonight. next week. Their nomination will be sometime Saturday afternoon. unday the final clave, the man day of the con-clave, the new party will adopt a platform, elect officers and lay down party, rules.

Elmer A. Benson, former governor of Minnesota and chairman of the National Wallace-for-President committee, is scheduled to come to Philadelphia early next week along with five co-chairmen.

In the pioneer days, Pike County was one of the key traffic points in Pennsylvania.

Senator J. Howard McGrath, who engineered the nomination of President Truman by the Democratic convention here, today was given the job of electing him in November. Without opposition and after he declared that the Democrats can win, McGrath was re-elected chairman of the national committee for McGrath told the national party leaders that if they can "keep the team together" he is confident they can elect President Truman and Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the No. 2 man on the ticket.

Praising the personal courage and confidence of the President, the national chairman said he has "no doubt" about the national election

SOME SOUTHERN states failed to send their national committeemen and committeewomen to the session, but McGrath reported this the best attended session of the top party leaders in many years.

Swept into office with McGrath ere his entire staff and other national committee officials. They promised a "fighting campaign" step with the fiery acceptance speech of Mr. Truman early today at Convention hall.

Northern and western Democratic leaders joined in saying that McGrath had done a fine job as national chairman. They promised to get in and fight the Republicans. Joel L. Blythe of North Carolina reported that the party's campaign chest "is solvent and we expect to stay solvent."

He did not list any figures and made no reference to the fact that some southern states have refused to contribute because of the split with President Truman over civil BLYTHE SAID the convention had cost "a great deal of money but we still can pay off." Mrs. India Edwards of Maryland, executive director of the women's division, said every woman party member is going "to get out and work her damnedest to elect President Truman and Senator Barkley.

Truman had been the victim of a whispering campaign."

"He's no great grammarian, he's no great scholar, but he is the type of man that many of our great presidents have been."

Assailing the record of the "bipartisan 80th Congress," the New party's standard bearer said in a statement that the Democratic convention "underscores the futility of placing any hope or faith in the Democratic party."

The party's platform and convention speeches, he said, "would give the impression that the party has been a knight in shining armor jousting endlessly with the Republican dragon in Congress,

Wilkinson and Dixon said that leaving the presidential electors free to vote for whom they pleased would not mean throwing support to the Republican candidates.

It would mean, they said, that the electors could vote for any man. Presumably the southern states could unite in the electoral college as they did in the convention, when 263 votes went to Senator Russell (D-Ga) for the presidential nomination.

ALABAMA ALREADY has a delegation to the electoral college which is unpledged, save against Truman. Wilkinson said the support by 11 nean 127 free votes in the electoral Earlier, Governor Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi said the Birmingham conference was to nominate a presidential candidate.

The call to the Birmingham convention was issued as the delegates departed Philadelphia and the scene of the national Democratic convention, wherein they were twice defeated.

The summons was issued by Governor Wright and Dixon to all those opposed to the civil rights program and the renomination of President

Renews Plan to Stay In German Capital Dispute Blockade by Russians

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP) - The United States restated its "We'll stay in Berlin" policy today.

Press officer Lincoln White told a news conference at the State department that there has been no change in the U.S. attitude since Secretary of State Marshall said on June 30 that "We intend to stay" despite the Russian blockade of the German capital.

The reaffirmation of policy followed Russia's rejection yesterday of the western powers' demand of July 6 that the blockade be lifted.

Also left unchanged was Marshall's statement that maximum American resources, in co-operation with Britain and France, will be used to supply the civilian population of Berlin by air.

IN THIS CONNECTION, the Russians threatened through their official Berlin newspaper today to interfere with U.S. and British planes flying over the blockade. A British air force spokesman in London commented that the Russians can't interfere with this air traffic without resorting to military action.

An atmosphere of crisis prevailed around a cabinet meeting in London. The cabinet was studying the Russian refusal to lift the Berlin

The whole German situation brought some in Washington to this conclusion: Newly-revealed weaknesses in Moscow's system of control over eastern Europe may be influencing the Kremlin to follow outhern states of his plan would a much tougher policy in dealing with the western powers on the Berlin crisis.

Atomic Energy Unit Clears Dr. Condon Of Disloyal Charge

WASHINGTON. July 15 (A)-After a double check, the Atomic Emergy commission today gave Dr. Edward U. Condon a renewed clearance to have access to restricted atomic data necessary to his work as director of the National Bureau of Star dards.

The commission issued a memorandum declaring it has "no question whatever" concerning Condon's loyalty and that "his continued clear-ance is in the best interests of the atomic energy program."

Months ago, Condon came under fire from a subcommittee of the House committee on un-American activities. It called him one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security and charged that he had associated with a suspected Russian spy:-Condon vigorously denied the committee's accusations and demanded a hearing. None has been set by the House group.

Meanwhile, during the period when the Atomic Energy commission was reinvestigating his security clearance, Condon voluntarily agreed to restrict his activities and contacts so he would acquire no new atomic information.

AMONG THE MATERIAL examined by the commission before reaching the decision announced today were reports on two investigations carried out by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI interviewed more than 300 persons in the course of its inquiries, the commission reported.

The commission's memorandum said, in part: "In considering the record, the commission has found that, in the opinion of some persons, Dr. Condon's tact, judgment and discretion appear to be subject to some degree of criticism. On the other hand are under observation. there are statements by persons who have been closely associated with Dr. Condon during his long work on classified information, which indicate proper care on his part in as-

mother has one chance in 80 of are sorority sisters. having a set of twins, but the chance of the pair of twin daughters to grow up and meet the right two men at the same time, and have those two men pop the question at just the right time to have a double wedding, grows out of all proportion to the plausible 1-in-80

About every two years Pottstown seems able to expect a pair of twin girls to have a double wedding. And a pretty double wedding will be held in Pottstown tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church when the Misses Barbara Ruth and Mary Elizabeth, twin daughters of Mrs. Russell Wells, 400 Highland road, will become the brides of two Philadelphia

Miss Mary met her husband-to-be first, at a casual get-together party late last Summer. At that time she was secreary to a research director for a farm magazine in Philadelphia. After several dates with him, he suggested one night that she look up a friend for his very best friend.
Of course, she thought of her sister and they started out on an or-dinary Saturday night date that was rapidly to develop into a constant foursome—later two betrothals, and tomorrow a double wedding.

MISS BARBARA RUTH is still a little bit bowled over to think she is getting married tomorrow - because she had never really intended to. She was going to be a career woman. She had taken a very definite course in business home economics at Penn State and was finishing that off with extra courses at Drexel and working at the Proctor Electric company.

She knew exactly where she was going and what she was going to do, and that did not include marriage. But, nevertheless and somehow or other, the career has lost its fascination, and while she expects to work for possibly a year or two until they have a home built, she positively believes that a career and marriage won't work and it is the career that is going to go flying out the window.

Miss Mary graduated from Syracuse University, the girls going to different colleges as a plot between their brother and mother, who both believed that they should have separate personalities and not learn to be dependent on each other. This arrangement the girls dearly loved, inasmuch as they could visit at each others school and manage just about twice as many friends as if they were in the same school besides they could trade evening gowns. Miss Barbara Ruth will became the bride of Mr. Robert Taylor 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor Jr., of Philadelphia, while her sister will be united in marriage to

At the club meeting, plans to attent the county 4-H club picnic in Westtown on Tuesday, July 20, were made. Vice president Lorraine Jones was in charge of the meeting.

Those present were: Shirley Keller, Carol Mary Bitler, Hazel Bitler, Phyllis Yergey, Barbara Ann Goss, Joyce Layman, Jane Moyer, Darlene Frederick, Vonda Lee Rouss, Mrs. Doris Weidner, home economic extension representative, Philip Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hahn.

Following the wedding a reception will be held at the Brookside country club after which the couples will head out in different directions for honeymoons only to come together for a foursome for their last weekend which will be spent on a boat just off Long Island

The couples will reside in Philadelphia about 20 blocks apart, but plan to still spend a lot of their time in foursomes as they have done so constantly in the last few weeks. A bridal party will be held at the Wells home in Rosedale following the wedding rehearsal tonight.

Governor Orders Salary Boosts for All State Workers

HARRISBURG, July 15 (P)—Governor James H. Duff today ordered cost-of-living salary increase for all of the Commonwealth's 40,000 employes to take effect about Aug. 1.

The amount and form of the boost is still to be determined. The governor said, however, it will be "a substantial increase because the increase in the cost of living has been substantial."

"I felt that, in view of reports that I get of the greatly increased cost of living, we ought to take it into account of the salaries of our employes of the Commonwealth," he told his news conference.

He met with newsmen shortly after going into the matter with members of his cabinet.

"THERE WAS NOT a single dissent among members of the cabinet of the necessity for such action,

The governor appointed a sevenman committee from his cabinet to iron out the details of the proposed wage increase—the third in three successive years. "They will report next week and I am hopeful that we will work out a setup that will provide for the increases about Aug. 1," Duff disclosed. State employes received salary hikes ranging from five percent for higher-paid workers to 15 percent for those in lesser categories in both 1946 and 1947. DUFF SAID THERE was "enough money available" to make the new boosts without imposing a burden on the State's financial status. He declined to estimate the cost, how-

The State's minimum annual salary has been boosted from slightly over $1000 in 1946 to its present $1428. Reclassification of jobs and "other higher standards," Duff asserted, will likely increase the minimum salary once again.

The past week, the governor announced a five cent an hour pay boost for 12,000 day-to-day workers of the highways department at a cost of $1,000,000 more a year.

Asked about a request of the AFL-Pennsylvania Council of Public Employes for a 20 percent boost, Duff commented:

"THIS IS BEING DONE on my own initiative. It is being done not because there is or there is not any pressure, but because I think it ought to be done."

The governor named these seven cabinet officers to the committee which will formulate details of the boost for recommendation to him: David R. Perry, secretary to the

Second Union Seeks | FIRE COMPANIES -Right to Represent Doehler Employes

The right to represent the 1500 union workers at the Pottstown plant of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation was asked yesterday in Cleveland, Ohio, by the National Association of Die Casting Workers.

The Doehler-Jarvis company has signed a contract, which was ratified by the workers and became effective Monday, with another CIO union, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers. This union has been the bargaining agent at the Pottstown plant.

THE NADOW ALSO sought yesterday to be the bargaining agent for 17 other plants. An investigation into the membership claims of the new union was promised in Cleveland by M. S. Ryder, regional director of the NLRB.

Gustave H. Schade Jr., president of Local 703, of the Mine, Mill and Smelter workers, said early this morning that he had no comment to make on how this development might affect the local workers.

Schade had attended a fourhour stewards' meeting, which presumably discussed the question.

The discovery of Stark's body came after four days of fruitless searching by the Coast Guard. which used a plane, two cutters and a jeep along the shore.

THE TWO MEN and Mrs. Beasley went to Cape May the past Saturday, planning to spend Sunday fishing offshore.

Although the Beasley's had their own sailboat with an auxiliary engine, the party was using a rented motor boat when the accident happened.

The boat was capsized by heavy seas late in the afternoon, 250 feet from shore. A strong swimmer, Mrs. Beasley stayed affoat until her cries attracted the attention of a Coast Guard surgeon fishing nearby.

Before the surgeon could locate her and summon aid, she had drifted two miles out to sea. She was taken to the Coast Guard hospital where she was treated for exposure, shock and hysteria.

convention delegates who nominated him that the test will be "what that worst 80th Congress does in this special session." The people, he said, will make their decision not by words, not by the party platform, but "on the record as it has been written."

FROM A POLITICAL viewpoint, the special session could be regarded as a windfall for the financially hard-pressed Democratic National committee. Messages from the President to Congress attract nation-wide interest and can focus the issues perhaps more sharply than a series of cross - country speeches. And - important to the National committee—it doesn't cost anything to send messages from the White House.

There are two sides to the special session drum, of course. The President5s political foes can thump it just as loudly from their side as the President can from his. And there is always the chance that Congress will pass a law the President doesn't want, and make it stick over his

Senator Alben Barkley, the President's running mate, praised the decision to call Congress back as "a courageous and proper thing to do." In the closing days of the regular session, however, the Kentuckian had expressed the belief that a special session would be futile. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) the Senate's presiding officer, declared on the other hand today that "this sounds like a last hysterical gasp of an expiring administration," stemming solely from political

THE PHILLIES have in their firehouse three American-La France rotary pumpers - one bought in 1927 with a 1000-gallon-a-minute capacity; a second purchased in 1934, pumping 500 gallons a minute, and the latest, delivered only the past year, capable of delivering 750 gallons a minute.

Like the other companies, the Phillies also have an emergency truck, containing lighting equipment, first-aid kits and a 250-gallon portable pump. Their equipment is kept up-to-date, with "dew gas" applicators and foamite dispensers to fight oil, gasoline, chemical or other fires unions whose officers do not sign that cannot be extinguished easily The Phillies fire school, inactive

Company membership has increased from the original seven in 1871 to nearly 1500 today.

POTTSTOWN'S "GOOD Will Steam Fire Engine Company Number One" lacked only a few days of being the first in the borough. It was organized on Jan. 6, 1871, just after its rival group had formed.

The Goodies first met in the Mansion House, not the present High street House, but soon built their own place on High street, between Hanover and

York streets. In 1883 the present structure at and except for interior improvements, it stands essentially as it did 65 years ago. When the Goodies got under way, their light pumper was pulled by the members themselves, a common method of getting fire trucks around in those days.

Later, horses were used, as apparatus became heavier, and toward the end of the 19th century six strapping horses were the proud possession of the company.

Pumpers themselves under went modernization, from hand to steam, and much later, to the present motor-driven pumpers.

THE GOODIES FIRST were motorized in 1916, when they bought an Ahrens-Fox 1000-gallon-a-minute pumper. This old warhorse still is in use, "still in A-1 working condition," according to company Chief. Robert Roth.

Roth calculated that the company's fire fighting and ambulance equipment today is worth approximately $100,000.

IT WAS IN 1885 that the Good Wills started their ambulance service. Until 1940, it remained the only emergency service between Pottstown and Reading, Norristown, Allentown and West Chester.

Beginning with a horse-drawn wagon, the three ambulances now are used to answer 2100 calls yearly "more than ever," Roth pointed out "because more people have hospitalization, and are using it."

Ambulance service was free until 1939. In that year, the ambulance fund was formed, with a charge of $1 per family per year. Previously, the ambulances were paid for by a contribution from the Pottstown Community Chest, and from voluntary donations from citizens

THE GOOD WILL company, like the other two, keeps up Pottstovn's traditionally modern fire-fighting service with modern aquipment. A new fog nozzle is one of their latest gadgets, as well as the potent "dew gas," which literally smothers a flame. In addition, the company leaders regularly order new equipment for trial purposes, rejecting some of it, keeping some when extensive tests have proved its worth. One of the Goodies' fondest plans is to build a new firehouse in the East End of Pottstown. The three companies all were formed when the borough was clustered around the downtown district, and the outlying sections grew up without a fire company in their midst.

Although building plans have been discussed in detail since before the war, excessive construction costs keep the Good Will members from launching their major program now. * * *

MODERN EQUIPMENT, a boast of Good Will volunteers, also is one of the first items that members of the Empire Hook and Ladder company mention.

This outfit of 1565 members, the largest enrolment in Hookies' history, boasts the only foamite apparatus in town.

Foamite, they point out, is the most efficient tool against oil and gasoline fires. Blazes of this nature are the ever-present fear of Empire men, who shudder when they think of Hanover and Queen streets was built the gas tanks and oil storage tanks along West High street. Ready for practically anything, the Hookies also have carbon dioxide tanks, "dew gas" apparatus and all the gadgets needed to put fire-fighting solutions into play as quickly as possible. Their major equipment includes a $20,000 ladder truck, purchased in 1943. This truck now costs more than a third more, according to Harry Yergey, Empires' driver. Richard Moser, fire chief of the company, also listed the 500-gallon pumper, bought for $14,000 in 1936, and the emergency truck, also dating back 12 years.

THE HOOKIES were established on July 17, 1876, with their headquarters first located on High street, near the center of town.

Within a few years they moved back to Chestnut and Franklin streets, first occupying a mere shed where their handpulled pumper was stored.

One of the services rendered by the newest of the three borough companies was sprinkling the town's dirt roads regularly. This practice was continued until early in this century.

Their present three-story building went up in 1884, with improvements going on from time to time its social functions for much of its income. Recent improvements to their upstairs headquarters, they claim have made the place into one of the best equipped clubs in town. Also like the other volunteer outfits, Empire men test their equipment regularly. All engines are turned over at least twice a week. Maintenance is constant and road tests are frequent. Fire schools are the rule at the Franklin and Chestnut streets firehouse, with realistic instruction in the use of ladders and life nets a part of the class routine.

For the second consecutive time old reliable Joe Coccie came through in fine fashion for the Coffee Cup last night.

Coccie drove home what proved to be the deciding run in the seventh inning with a triple into a tie for fourth place with and pitched brilliant relief ball in helping the Coffee Cup to a 4-1 triumph over the Colored All-Stars before 350 fans on Franklin field.

Just the past Friday Coccie drilled a single into left field to drive home the winning run as the Coffee Cup was edging URW, 2-1, for its seventh win of the year. Last night's win was No. 8 for the league leaders and increased their lead to a full game over UAW.

Coccie needed only one and two-thirds innings of relief work to gain his second straight victory. The big righthander replaced Vic DiGiosia after the All-Stars had tied the score at 1-1 in the bottom half of the sixth.

DI GIOSIA had an easy time with the All-Stars in the early innings. The Stowe righthander retired the first 14 men to face him in order before Carl Corum broke the ice with a single in the fifth.

Eddie Johnson's double was only the second hit of DiGiosia but it led to the All-Stars first run and also led to DiGiosia's retirement.

Coccie's triple in the seventh inning came with Ziggy Yarmush on first base after he had beat out an infield hit and started the Coffee Cup off to a three-run

AFTER COCCIE'S smash, Shorty dropped Walt Foley's liner in center and the Coffee Cup pitcher crossed the plate with the second run. Foley went to third when George Dozier's miscue allowed Ken Shellenberger to reach first base safely and scored a moment later when Bud Stolpe flied to deep center.

The Coffee Cup touched Curly Ricketts for their first run in the top of the sixth to break a 0-0 deadlock. Bus Conner worked Rickballs issued in the second base on Stranahan Semi-Finalist balls issued in the game up to that time. Ennis' Homer Gives Phillies 3-1 Triumph Over Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A)-Dei Ennis' 13th home run with Ralph Caballero on base provided Dutch Leonard the margin he needed to beat the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 3 to 1. It was the Redbirds' sixth defeat in seven games and snapped

The veteran knuckleballer turned in one of his best performances of the season. He stopped the Cards with four hits, did not walk a batter and would have had a shutout but for a wild throw by Gran Hamner in the first inning. The error permitted Marty Marion. to score after he had doubled and taken third on Enos Slaughter's infield hit.

Leonard drove home the tying run with a fly in the fifth after Eddie Miller hit the first of two doubles and took third on Andy Seminick's scratch hit. Ennis' fourbase clincher came in the sixth after Caballero got a triple when Ron Northey missed a diving catch. Philadelphia
